

Rules And Regulations

Administrator – a person who manages the website.

User – a person who visits the website.

Website – it is the website available at autism-test.org.uk along with its contents.

1. The Administrator reserves the right to introduce changes to the Website.
2. The Administrator strives for failure-free operation of the Website.
3. The User who uses the Website accepts the rules and regulations thereof and undertakes to observe its provisions.
4. An adult or a minor who has obtained the consent of their statutory representatives or guardians may become the Website's User.
5. The website Administrator is not responsible for User's unfamiliarity with prices of services and their own financial capacity.
6. The User is granted the right to find out the test results only after making the payment.
7. The Administrator reserves the right to introduce changes to these rules and regulations without the need to inform the User.
8. The User may cease to use the Website at any time.
9. The user bears sole and personal liability for unlawful use of the Website that is not in line with these terms and conditions, including criminal and civil liability.
10. The test result is made available only after making a payment as stipulated in the price list (<https://www.autism-test.org.uk/conditions-generales-du-service-sms.pdf>).
11. The payment via text messages is provided by Paysera.
12. The User undertakes to follow the terms of use provided herein.
13. The test result cannot be considered on a reliable source of information. If you have serious health problems, consult your doctor or pharmacist. We recommend you consult your result with a physician or a gynaecologist.
14. The User has the right to submit a complaint within 7 days from the day on which an event occurred via the complaint form (complaints@autism-test.org.uk).
15. The organizer is not responsible for delays in sending the access code, which are attributable to the mobile network Operator.
16. The Administrator has the right to technical breaks in providing the Website without prior notice to the User.
17. By accepting the rules and regulations while starting the test, the User declares their familiarity with and acceptance of this document.
18. The contents provided in the website are solely of informative and advertising nature and cannot be considered as a form of advice, consultation or recommendation.
19. Information displayed on the website in certain articles from the specialised press are of informative nature and cannot be considered as consultations. The website is not responsible for the content of the articles referred to above.
20. The result of the test requires prior consultation with a physician. The Website bears neither consequences nor liability for implications that may result from the use of information provided on the website without prior consultation with a physician who takes a final decision of the manner and scope the test is used.